NEIGHBORHOOD LEGAL SERVICES ASSOCIATION OFFERS FREE DRIVING PRIVILEGES INFORMATION GUIDES

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct 6, 2010 – Did you know that a driver’s license can be suspended even if you never obtained one? Find out the facts about Pennsylvania driver’s licenses in Neighborhood Legal Services Association’s (NLSA) free information guides.

The following items are available: one comprehensive manual--Get in the Driver’s Seat: A Guide on How to Obtain, Maintain, & Restore Driving Privileges in Pennsylvania; and three supplemental brochures -- PA Driver’s Licenses: How to Get a Driver’s License, Commercial Driver’s License, and Motorcycle License; PA Driver’s License Suspension: Causes for License Suspension, Starting the Suspension, and Restoring your License; along with a PA Driver’s License Suspensions-Frequently Asked Questions informational sheet.

NLSA developed these resources to assist those who are experiencing driver’s license problems. Workforce development staff, educators and other client advocates can use this information to assist clients in obtaining a driver’s license, maintaining driving privileges, and/or reinstating their driver’s license.

“Lack of reliable transportation and, specifically, the lack of a valid driver’s license is a significant barrier to employment,” said Robert V. Racunas, NLSA Executive Director. “NLSA helps low-income job seekers address certain employment related legal problems, including assisting individuals in exploring available options to restore their driving privileges. With these information guides, we can help to address this employment barrier.”

All guides may be found on under the News Tab on NLSA’s website (www.nlsa.us) or on www.palawhelp.org under the employment tab. Organizations seeking multiple quantities of the brochures can contact Phyllis Stevens at 412-586-6110 or stevensp@nlsa.us.
